OVERVIEW

Referred to by the Financial Times as “America’s most prominent #Metoo lawyer,” Douglas H. Wigdor, routinely tries cases to verdict, has won numerous multi-million-dollar verdicts and has consistently been recognized as the top employment litigator in the country. To date, his trial verdicts, arbitration awards and settlements have exceeded $1.5 billion.

“[O]ne of New York City’s most aggressive employment lawyers.”
Businessweek described Douglas as among the “top tier of telegenic anti-discrimination lawyers.”

Douglas is widely recognized as a tireless champion for victims of sexual harassment, sexual assault, race discrimination and other workplace misconduct. From Sean Combs to Harvey Weinstein and James Dolan, to Dominique Strauss-Kahn to the NFL, to the Grammys to Madison Square Garden, Douglas has been at the forefront of some of the most impactful sexual abuse and employment discrimination cases of the last two decades.

Douglas has been named a Top 100 Hollywood Power Lawyer by The Hollywood Reporter and a four-time honoree on Billboard’s Top Music Lawyers list, which prominently featured his representation of Casandra Ventura and its direct impact on what the publication deemed the music industry’s legal story of the year. His prolific legal career has been covered in profiles in The New York Times, Bloomberg Businessweek and the Independent (UK). He was also named to the first annual Forbes Top 200 Lawyers list. Douglas Wigdor was named City & State 2025’s Law Power 100, the magazine declared “Wigdor has shaped the national conversation on workplace accountability and his cases have led to corporate resignations, policy reforms and significant financial settlements that have transformed the workplace.” He has been referred to in these and other major news publications as one of the country’s most high-profile litigators.

He has testified before the UK Parliament and has appeared in a Netflix documentary about the sexual assault case against Dominique Strauss Kahn as well as in a CNN+/HBO docuseries in 2022 about Rupert Murdoch.

Douglas “has levied cases against some of the most powerful players in the business and political worlds – and won.”

–City & State’s Law Power 100 list

His “pursuit of decency, justice and high-dollar settlements in the #MeToo era has landed Douglas on the list of Law360’s Titans of the Plaintiffs Bar,” according to a profile recognizing him as one of the most influential plaintiffs’ lawyers in the U.S.

Douglas regularly writes for Forbes Diversity & Inclusion on newsworthy topics and can often be seen standing up for his clients in TV and radio interviews.

In addition to representing clients, Douglas is an arbitrator, serving on the American Arbitration Association Employment Panel. Prior to founding Wigdor LLP, Douglas practiced in the labor and employment group of a large law firm litigating on behalf of “Fortune 500” corporations. He began his legal career an Assistant District Attorney in Suffolk County, New York.

A former U.S. Senator for New York said of Douglas, “it’s much better to have him on our side than risk sitting across from him.”
