

Transgender Discrimination And Retaliation Lawsuit Against Fashion Retailer Forever 21

April 2, 2015 • News & Press

Wigdor LLP represented Alexia Daskalakis in a transgender discrimination and retaliation action against Forever 21. The Complaint alleges that Forever 21 discriminated against her because she presented as a woman despite being assigned male gender at birth. As set forth in the Complaint, Ms. Daskalakis was called “disgusting” and “a hot mess,” and was told that “in the eyes of the Company, you’re still a man” by her managers. Ms. Daskalakis claims that after complaining about her mistreatment, she was fired.

View the Complaint:

Read PDF

NY Daily News

“Former Forever 21 worker was called ‘disgusting’ and ‘hot mess’ by her bosses while transitioning to woman: lawsuit”

April 2, 2015

Read online

Read PDF

The Mirror UK

“‘I was devastated’: Forever 21 transgender worker ‘branded disgusting by bosses while transitioning into a woman’”

April 2, 2015

Read online

Read PDF

AOL News

“Lawsuit claims 21 worker was called ‘disgusting’ and ‘hot mess’ by her bosses while transitioning to woman”

April 2, 2015

Read online

Read PDF

Law 360

“Trans Worker At Forever 21 Called ‘Disgusting’, Suit Says”

April 2, 2015

Read online

Read PDF

The Christian Post

“Transgender Employee Sues Christian-Owned Apparel Company Forever 21, Claims Bosses Mocked”

Transition April 2, 2015

Read online

Read PDF

Fortune Magazine

"Forever 21 slapped with transgender discrimination lawsuit"

April 2, 2015

Read online

Read PDF