

Wigdor LLP Represented Victims Of The Massive Steam Pipe Explosion In Their Lawsuit Against Con Ed

July 30, 2007 • News & Press

Wigdor LLP represented the family of Gregory McCullough, the twenty-one -year-old young man who was driving the tow truck at the center of the Con Edison steampipe explosion in midtown Manhattan and was left critically injured with third degree burns over eighty percent of his body.

Wigdor LLP also represents Judith Bailey, the passenger who sustained severe burns over 30 percent of her body.

New York Post

"Steam Scream Horror"

July 31, 2007

Read PDF

Newsday

"Family of Pipe Blast Victim Plans Suit"

July 31, 2007

Read PDF

Daily News

"My Trip Through Hell & Back"

July 13, 2008

Read PDF

New York Times

"Steam-Blast Victim Remains Unconscious, But His Mother Says 'He Can Hear Me'"

July 30, 2007

Read PDF

New York Times

"Family Thanks Samaritan in Steam Blast"

July 31, 2007

Read PDF