

Wigdor LLP Files Second Harassment And Discrimination Lawsuit Against Forever 21

February 12, 2016 • News & Press

Wigdor LLP represents Mickael Louis in its second lawsuit against Forever 21. Mr. Louis is the second employee of a Brooklyn Forever 21 location to allege he was harassed and discriminated against by his managers at this location, the first being a transgender woman who alleged she was fired in retaliation for her complaints of discrimination. The Complaint alleges sexual and racial harassment by two managers at the store who barraged Mr. Louis with sexual innuendo and racist comments, including calling Mr. Louis “Nutella” and advising him not to place Black employees at the register “because they steal.” Mr. Louis eventually quit the job, no longer able stand the constant sexual harassment and racism.

View the Complaint: Read PDF

NY Daily News

“Forever 21 store in Brooklyn gets sued again for discrimination, worker was told ‘I love muscular black guys like you’

February 12, 2016

Read Online

Read PDF

Gothamist

“Brooklyn Forever 21 Managers Accused of Sexual Harassment, Calling Black Worker ‘Nutella’

February 12, 2016

Read Online

Read PDF