During an interview with Law360, Mr. Willemín discussed his motivation as an employment attorney:

"I really love employment law, and so the passion that I have for the job is definitely a motivator. Individuals spend the vast majority of their waking hours at work normally, so any disturbance or any unlawful conduct or harassment or discrimination in the workplace is going to have a profound impact on someone's life, so for me to be able to help redress and fix those situations, to give a voice to an individual in that circumstance, is what motivates me."

Mr. Willemín has been involved in the litigation of numerous high-profile discrimination and sexual harassment lawsuits in recent years, earning him a spot as one of five employment attorneys under age 40 honored by Law360 as Rising Stars.
