Job Description:

Mid-level associates have worked in the legal profession for several years after graduating law school. They handle a range of employment-related cases from the discovery stage through trial and gain significant experience drafting pleadings, counseling clients, conducting depositions and engaging in motion practice and oral argument before Federal and State courts. The ideal candidate has a demonstrated background and interest in employment law, including experience litigating discrimination, harassment, whistleblower retaliation and/or wage-and-hour claims.

Qualified candidates must meet the following minimum requirements:

- Juris Doctor degree with a record of strong academic performance;
- 3-6 years of work experience in the legal field, including employment-related litigation experience; previous trial experience is a plus;
- Strong work ethic and attention to detail;
- Excellent writing and analytical skills;
- Effective time management skills and ability to multitask;
- Ability to work in a fast-paced environment and meet tight deadlines under pressure;
- Collaborative attitude and willingness to provide guidance and mentorship to Paralegals as needed.
